Titled Unnatural Women an exhibition curated by artist and writer Rowena Easton will run as part of the inaugural Women in Art Fair the first art fair dedicated to redressing gender imbalance in the art industry. The show features seminal artists, such as Paula Rego and Jean Cooke alongside established contemporary names like Marcelle Hanselaar, Alice Kettle and Geraldine Swayne plus emerging talents including Angelina May Davis, Abigail Norris and Elissa Jane Diver.

Curator Rowena Easton says: "I'm interested in humankind's ambivalent relationship with nature. I want to explore how we understand and construct wilderness and landscape, particularly how women are placed and understand themselves, and their bodily nature, in relation to the natural world. 'Natural beauty', 'natural birth', 'unnatural instincts', 'wild child', (You Make Me Feel Like) A Natural Woman, even... all those topiarized notions of unmanageable womanhood are disrupted by this group of Unnatural Women."

The exhibition will feature a mix of painting, sculpture, photography and print, as well as textiles, a traditionally female artform, and technological work, which is still largely perceived as a male practice.

THE WIAF TEAM

Jacqueline Harvey, Director

WIAF is directed by author, educator, journalist, broadcaster and award-winning businesswoman, Jacqueline Harvey. A graduate of Goldsmiths, University of London, with a degree in Philosophy and Sociology, Jacqueline's extensive career includes working for nine years as Managing Director of Art Strategies, a Mayfair gallery which championed inclusivity and diversity through a successful exhibition, education and international fair programme. She has worked at many art fairs, including START, London Art Fair, Masterpiece, Art Basel and Art Bahrain. In addition to her career in the arts, Jacqueline has written books on health and wellbeing and is regularly interviewed on the BBC and in the national press. She has her own weekly programme on Women's Radio.

Jacqueline Harvey says: "The world has been through incredible changes in recent years and women, as artists, have continued to create and help maintain stability in these volatile times. We need to celebrate the journey we have been on and look at the new paths and opportunities we are going to create for future generations."

Rowena Easton, Curator

Rowena graduated from Goldsmiths' legendary MFA Art Writing course in 2011. She is Art Director of ROSA Magazine and, as an artist, has exhibited, published and performed widely in the UK and internationally, working across various media, particularly text, installation and performance. Rowena has shown in venues such as the Royal Academy, Estorick Collection, Bluecoat Liverpool, Freud Museum, Brighton Dome, John Hansard Gallery, QUAD Derby, The Architecture Centre Bristol, Center for Architecture NYC, Theatre Academy of Finland, Tuned City Berlin, Goethe Institute Bangkok; and has had work broadcast on Channel 4 and Resonance FM.

Committee: Co-founder of iconic gallery Riflemaker, Virginia Damtsa is a well-known art dealer, gallerist, curator and artists' agent. Katrina Aleksa Ryemill is an art advisor and co-founder of The Association of Women in the Arts (AWITA). Cynthia Corbett is Director of The Cynthia Corbett Gallery and Founder of The Young Master's Art Prize. Susan J Mumford is Founder and CEO of the Association of Women Art Dealers (AWAD) and a sector-supporting entrepreneur for the art market.

Katrina Aleksa says: "The Women in Art Fair is a fantastic platform to showcase some of the amazingly talented female artists active today. Whilst there has never been a shortage of talented women artists there has, sadly, been an historical lack of discussion and exposure compared to the attention that the art industry have given male artists. Any fair that is set up to provide a platform for any under represented group to shine should always be celebrated - and most importantly, enjoyed! I am hugely honoured to have been asked to be part of the committee of choosing works shown at the fair this year."
